EDITORIAL ARTICLE

- Contemporary management of groin lymph nodes in early vulvar cancer: diagnosis and treatment 378
O. Balat - Gaziantep, TURKEY
In this review contemporary management including diagnosis and treatment of groin lymph nodes in early vulvar cancer is discussed.

ORIGINAL ARTICLE

- A phase II study of weekly paclitaxel in platinum and paclitaxel-resistant ovarian cancer patients 383
J. Kaern, M. Baekelandt, C. G. Tropé - Oslo, NORWAY
Weekly paclitaxel showed high response rates and mild toxicity in platinum-resistant ovarian cancer.
- Molecular mechanisms of apoptosis and chemosensitivity to platinum and paclitaxel in ovarian cancer: biological data and clinical implications 390
A. Gadducci, S. Cosio, S. Muraca, A. R. Genazzani - Pisa, ITALY
The understanding of cellular mechanisms regulating apoptosis may allow a more rationale planning of chemotherapy in patients with ovarian cancer.
- Risk factors for ovarian cancer and early-onset breast cancer in Mongolia 397
L. Elit, G. Baigal, E. Jack, A. Munkhtaivan, S. A. Narod - Toronto, CANADA - Ulaan Baator, MONGOLIA
In Mongolian women, ovarian cancer or early-onset breast cancer, may be due to the 3452delA BRCA1 mutation.
- Correlation of three-dimensional tumor volumetry with cervical cancer prognostic parameters 401
A. C. Y. Chen, W. H. Sung, P. H. Wang, M. H. Sheu, J. L. Doong, C. C. Yuan - Taiwan, R.O.C.
Pelvic lymph node metastasis, parametrial involvement, and tumor differentiation in cervical cancer can be initially predicted by tumor volumetry using MR-image integration.
- Neoadjuvant chemotherapy for advanced epithelial ovarian carcinoma: a retrospective case-control study 405
M. Uršič Vrsčaj, S. Rakar - Ljubljana, SLOVENIA
Neoadjuvant chemotherapy in patients with advanced epithelial ovarian carcinoma does not have an unfavorable effect on the prognosis.
- Immunohistochemical expression of vimentin and secretory component antigens in endometrial hyperplasia and neoplasia 411
N. Papadopoulos, A. Kotini, A. Cheva, T. Jivannakis, M. Lambropoulou, M. Bobos, S. Vavetsis, D. Tamiolakis - Tharce - Drama - Alexandroupolis, GREECE
Loss of vimentin expression and gain of secretory component expression are demonstrated in the course from endometrial hyperplasia to carcinoma
- A retrospective study of 27 ovarian tumors of low malignant potential 415
A. Demeter, Zs. Csapó, A. Szánthó, J. Bálega, N. Sipos, Z. Papp - Budapest, HUNGARY
The authors retrospectively reviewed their experience with regard to the fertility-sparing surgical treatment of ovarian tumors of low malignant potential. Up to 50% of women in this study who underwent fertility-saving surgery subsequently conceived.
- Bc1-2 expression in preinvasive and invasive cervical lesions 419
S. S. Ozalp, O. T. Yalcin, H. M. Tanir, E. Dundar, S. Yildirim - Eskişehir, TURKEY
In this study bc1-2 expression in preinvasive and invasive cervical lesions was assessed.
- Low and high grade mucoepidermoid carcinomas of the breast 423
W. A. A. Tjalma, I. O. J. Verslegers, P. A. J. De Loecker, E. A. E. Van Marck - Edegem, BELGIUM
Mucoepidermoid carcinoma is a very rare primary tumour of the breast. A low-grade recurrence together with a literature review is reported.
- Can radiotherapy be a treatment option for elderly women with invasive vulvar carcinoma without radical surgery? 426
H.C. Ulutin, Y. Pak, M. Dede - Ankara, TURKEY
Limited surgery and mega-voltage radiotherapy can be effective in early invasive vulvar carcinoma for elderly patients.

- Prevalence of genital human papillomavirus among Lebanese women 429
A. M. Mroueh, M. A. F. Seoud, H. G. Kaspar, P. A. Zalloua - Beirut, LEBANON
The prevalence of HPV 16 and its association with cervical cancer were evaluated in a group of Lebanese women.
- Immunophenotypic profile of tumor infiltrating lymphocytes in medullary carcinoma of the breast 433
D. Tamiolakis, C. Simopoulos, A. Cheva, M. Lambropoulou, A. Kotini, T. Jivannakis, N. Papadopoulos - Alexandroupolis - Thrace - Drama, GREECE
CD8 (T-cytotoxic) and CD20 (B-cell) markers are strongly expressed by tumor infiltrating lymphocytes in medullary carcinoma of the breast.
- Neoadjuvant chemotherapy in ovarian cancer 437
C. Camci, O. Balat - Gaziantep, TURKEY
Neoadjuvant chemotherapy of bulky ovarian cancer after debulking surgery may be accepted as a standard therapy.
- Monodermal highly specialized teratoma of the ovary: a sebaceous gland tumor 442
C. Cicchini, A. Larcinese, F. Ricci, P. Aurello, P. L. Mingazzini, M. Indinnimeo - Rome, ITALY
The sebaceous gland tumor is a rare type of monodermal teratoma.
- Benign metastasizing leiomyoma in the lung: a case report 445
R. Sabatini, R. Ferreri, G. Distante, V. Loizzi, P. Loizzi - Bari, ITALY
A rare case of leiomyomatosis of the lung diagnosed in a woman with uterine leiomyomatosis not previously treated is reported.
- Malignant rhabdoid tumor of the clitoris in an elderly patient: report of a case 447
D. Haidopoulos, A. Elsheikh, G. Vlahos, M. Sotiropoulou, A. Rodolakis, Z. Voulgaris, S. Milingos, E. Diakomanolis - Athens, GREECE
A case of malignant rhabdoid tumor of the clitoris with emphasis on immunohistochemical analysis is reported.
- An extraordinary case of four primary tumors in the same patient, involving the uterine cervix, lung, skin, and rectum 451
C. Baykal, Y. Baykal, Ç. Taskiran, I. Esinler, A. Demiroglu, R. Doğan, A. Ayhan - Ankara, TURKEY
Case report of a patient with four primary cancers of different organs.
- Gains and losses of glycoprotein CD44 and secretory component expression in endometrial hyperplasia and neoplasia 453
D. Tamiolakis, A. Kotini, A. Cheva, T. Jivannakis, M. Lambropoulou, M. Bobos, S. Vavetsis, N. Papadopoulos - Alexandroupolis - Thrace - Drama, GREECE
Depletion of CD44 and predominance of SC expression are demonstrated on the way from endometrial hyperplasia to endometrial carcinoma.
- Vaginal intraepithelial neoplasia: report of 102 cases 457
E. Diakomanolis, K. Stefanidis, A. Rodolakis, D. Haidopoulos, M. Sindos, I. Chatzipappas, S. Michalakis - Athens, GREECE
VAIN most often involves the upper third of the vagina and upper vaginectomy or laser CO₂ ablation is the treatment of choice.
- Cervical biopsy specimens and human papilloma virus positivity in patients with external genital warts 460
S. Akdeniz, M. Yaldiz, N. Akdeniz - Diyarbakir, TURKEY
Human papillomavirus and subclinical low-grade CIN lesions were detected in 54% (9/16) and 66% (6/9) of the biopsy specimens of sixteen patients with external genital warts.
- Treating intraepithelial lesions of the uterine cervix by laser CO₂. Evaluation of the past, appraisal for the future 463
E. Diakomanolis, D. Haidopoulos, A. Rodolakis, E. Messaris, G. Sakellaropoulos, C. Calpaktsoglou, S. Michalakis - Athens, GREECE
The management of squamous intraepithelial lesions (SIL) of the uterine cervix by laser CO₂ offers excellent results with minor complications.
- Immunohistochemical expression of alpha-smooth muscle actin in infiltrating ductal carcinoma of the breast with productive fibrosis 469
D. Tamiolakis, N. Papadopoulos, A. Cheva, M. Lambropoulou, A. Kotini, T. Jivannakis, C. Simopoulos - Alexandroupolis - Thrace - Drama, GREECE
Alpha-smooth muscle actin is strongly expressed by tumor cells (dual differentiated towards epithelial and myoepithelial cells) in infiltrating ductal carcinomas with diffuse fibrosis.
- The effect of continuous ambulatory peritoneal dialysis on serum CA-125 levels 472
C. Camci, S. Büyükberber, M. Tarakçioğlu, S. M. Adam, C. Camci, H. M. Türk, N. Büyükberber, Ö. Balat - Adana, TURKEY
Continuous ambulatory peritoneal dialysis (CAPD)-induced abdominal artificial ascites and non-inflammatory mechanical pressures in the CAPD procedure do not have an effect on serum CA-125 levels.
- Metastatic squamous cell vulvar carcinoma of the lung: a case report and review of the literature 475
N. Barbetakis, Th. Antoniadis, K. Kaplanis, D. Deligiannis, Th. Toliou, Ch. Tsilikas - Thessaloniki, GREECE
Presentation of a rare case of metastatic squamous cell carcinoma of the vulva to the lung and review of the literature.
